The announcement was greeted with applause and the report of the committee adopted. The Senate unanimously elected Smith Governor, he receiving eighteen votes.

CHARLESTON.

Its Mills and Mines, Business Men and Houses.

CHARLESTON, January 14. ED. CITIZEN.—At Charleston your correspondent found the Tombstone Company's mill steadily crushing Tough Nut ore with its usual excellent results, and the new Corbin mill just preparing to drop its fifteen stamps for the first time.

Mr. W. B. Scott, the pioneer merchant of the city, is doing a rushing business. His well assorted stock has just been replenished with new supplies, and 23,000 pounds more are now on the way for him between the railroad terminus and here.

G. H. Brooks & Co., the urbane representatives of the well known firm of Wm. B. Hooper & Co., alive to their welfare, have corralled the public good will and supply a large trade with their A. 1 brands of liquors.

The popular firm of Herrera & Co., are demonstrating the fact that they are energetic in business and have fixed their tow-line permanently on the Charleston trade.

Herman Welisch has his business well established and is reaping a rich harvest. His store has been considerably enlarged to accommodate the large stock his growing custom demands. The well known standing of the house having placed it high in public esteem.

Superintendent Gird's spacious cottage—a model of architecture—is located on the hill side by the mill, overlooking the embryo city below and the wide spreading mesa that rises smoothly to the distant foothills of the Huachuca and forms one of the most imposing and interesting views the eyes could wish to rest upon.

The Nellie James, in Mormon canyon, and the Wisconsin mine in Ramsey's canyon on the Huachuca, are developing nicely. The tunnel is being rapidly pushed forward and the assays show a yield of 30 to 50 per cent copper and 20 to 100 ounces per ton in silver.

The mines generally in the adjacent hills are looking well and the people are busy, cheerful, and evidently prosperous.

The Indians Again.

On the 2d instant twenty-five Indians who are supposed to be of Victorio's band, attacked the camp of ten miners from Hillsborough, who were in the Florida mountains, exploring for mineral. Seven of the miners were out in the hills, when the three who remained in camp to guard the stock and stores were surprised and driven off by the Indians. The men soon concentrated, regained the camp and repulsed their assailants, but not until one of their number had been killed and two wounded. The Indians had three killed and got away with eight horses belonging to the miners.

On Tuesday morning last, a party of hostiles crossed the road at Goodlett's, a dozen miles this side of Cummins, cutting out several hundred feet of the telegraph wire, which they dropped a hundred yards or so to the north of the road. This party is thought, from the trail, to have numbered more than a hundred. On the following morning the trail of a considerable party was discovered intersecting the road about twelve miles west of Mesilla, trending north. Troops from Fort Bayard under Major Morrow, promptly took the field, and it is hoped that they are prepared for a swift, vigorous and successful pursuit of the marauding savages. —[Mesilla News.]

Santa Fe Items.

A gambler killed John Diamond, a railroad employe, Wednesday night, in Santa Fe, over a game of cards.

Thursday morning a Mexican was found stabbed through the heart near the creek at Sumner.

On the 29th ultimo John Harris shot three times at Barney Mason, when the latter got a pistol and killed Harris.

Henry Dewel died January 1st. Louis Gold, an old resident, died on the 5th inst.

We learn from military headquarters that all the troops from Bayard, Stanton and Bliss are out scouting Major Morrow's command of six companies of cavalry with two pieces of artillery are on the trail of the Indians, moving towards McEver's rancho. Our troops and Mexican forces under Trevino will operate in conjunction some cavalry and Indian scouts from Arizona are coming to operate in New Mexico.

Railroad track-laying commences on Santa Fe Branch on Monday. The Sentinel office will be sold on Saturday.

Mining a Safe Business.

There is no good reason why mining should always remain, as the Boston Herald says it will, "that same half honorable, half disreputable kind of a business which it now is in the minds of a majority of sober headed New Englanders." If millions have been lost in gambling in mining stocks, which either represented no real property or a really vicious management, it was the fault of those who preferred to be deluded and thus impoverished than to be thoroughly informed, and thus made rich. The uncertainty of mining operations is being removed by science as fast as possible. With honest and capable management added mining is about to become as safe and sure a business for the investment of capital as any other. —[Mining Journal.]

Not Conquered Yet.

Captain Haskell turned over about two hundred of the surrendered renegades to Major Chaffer, at San Carlos, last week. New Mexico was again terrified about the same time by the invasion of one hundred renegade warriors from Chihuahua soil. Major Morrow is out with all available troops. The Mexican government offers $100 each for renegade scalps. The forces of both nations are co-operating in the movements against the hostiles, and yet Victorio seems to muster about as large an army as he did three months ago. This is a simple statement of facts and of course no one can be offended by them.

The Sunset.

Since our report last week, work has progressed on the New Discovery shaft of the Sunset mine, and a depth of twenty-five feet has been attained. Two days ago they reached the same class of ore as in the first shaft, and have uncovered a ledge eight feet in width, which is widening at every blast. The wonderful developments in the mine have attracted many people to the shafts during the past week. It is a bonanza which will grow in richness and fame. —[Nugget, Jan. 13.]

Mr. C. F. Cate returned yesterday from Tip Top. He tells us that the Tip Top mine is being opened in good shape and the very high grade ore is being taken therefrom. It is thought that the mill will not start up until about the first of March, which of itself makes mine matters somewhat tight. The new road is completed between the mill and the mine and is said to be first class. —[Miner.]

We are pleased to notice that Hon. Joseph W. Mason, has been appointed Chairman of the Assembly Committee on Mines and Mining Interest. Mr. Wason has had a wide and varied experience in mining, and is by all odds, the best man who could have been named for the position. —[Stock Report.]

A PRIVATE dispatch from Prescott says Chief Justice French would start Thursday on his return trip to Tucson. Nothing is said of the adjournment of the Supreme Court, this is probably the fact however, as the Prescott session was so short.

Our dispatches say that Major Morrow has overtaken the renegade Indians, and killed many and the rest got away. The probable fact is that many got away and the rest were killed. We only guess this you know.

Tombstone Dots.

[From The Nugget, January 15.]

Ninety men on the pay-roll of the Tough Nut mine last month. Huachuca Minerals at Variety Hall on Tuesday evening, next.

Richard Gird, with his accomplished bride, has arrived at Millville and settled under the sound of the stamps. C. S. Fly has opened a large photographic gallery at Charleston, and being a first-class artist in his profession is doing a large business.

The Olmstead & Walker Stage Company have removed their office in this city to more commodious quarters on Fifth street, near Allen.

We are pleased to note that some of the young gentlemen of our town are organizing a home dramatic association, in which some of the ladies of our city will participate.

The newly elected Common Council met Tuesday evening and, with the Mayor, took the oath of office. Mike Gray was elected Village Recorder, when they adjourned.

The recent excitement in the Dragon Mountains has proved of considerable importance, and why shouldn't it, when during the past week ore has been brought in from new discoveries which assays as high as $6000 to the ton.

The Corbin mill struck its first blow yesterday, when its stamps commenced pounding on Lucky Cuss ore. It is said to be the most perfect machinery and mill work generally to be found on the Pacific Coast. It will run exclusively on Lucky Cuss ore.

T. R. Sorin, publisher of the popular map of Southern Arizona, which includes the territory within a radius of 100 miles of Tucson, has been in town this week. Some time since he sent to this city a large number of his pocket and office maps, all of which have been disposed of, and the cry is now made in every part of the city that there is nothing of great value done up in a small space. Mr. Sorin is now preparing a history of Tombstone and the mining properties surrounding it, for Eastern circulation, as well as at home, which will meet with great favor, as he is sparing no pains to make it complete in every particular. Such a work, carefully and accurately prepared, will be a valuable publication.

LEADVILLE ORE.

How Silver is Sold at New Colorado Camp.

The business of buying and selling ores in a camp like this when the output of the miners is so immense, and the value of dollars so great, has been reduced to a science and is by no means as may be supposed, depending upon fair dealing and honesty of the mill men, who generally are the purchasers. The large mining corporations and wealthy individual owners of productive properties, have their own assays, and well as their own scales at their mines. So far as practical, similar ores from different pay streaks are piled together for shipment under the distinguished titles of hard carbonates, iron, dark sand, gray sand and many other varieties of ore. The assays made frequently assays for the purpose of keeping a general knowledge of these separate kinds of ore, yet such assays are not the basis upon which sales are made, owing to the fact that such samples may be too high or too low for the bulk of such lots, and the correct sampling must be arrived at by a series of assays. In sampling works of reserve so many pounds at regular intervals out of a given weight of ore as being crushed. This system gives approximately the true value of the bulk of ore, to ascertain which is equally to the interest of both buyer and seller. Samples from the bulk samples are assayed by the mill men and by the owners, and if the ounces closely tally, the price to be paid is arrived at. If too great variations occur, the assays are made over again until they do agree. The owners of the ore, knowing the cost of the milling and marketing the ore, are as well able to determine what the mill can afford to pay as the mill man himself, and thus there is full and complete satisfaction and confidence existing between the sellers and buyers of ore in this camp. The weight of each ton of ore made to tally almost to a pound by allowing for unavoidable light waste in hauling, and it is very seldom that disputes arise from this point.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Two Laredos, a paper published at Laredo, New Mexico, says: At the Sierra Mojada mines there are two towns three miles apart. As regards mining, there is no doubt that there is rich ore here and plenty of it, but water at present is scarce, and the only way for the owner to get his ore to market is to haul it 1,000 at least, and as many men, but there are several wells in progress, and Willet is boring with a well machine, and in a few days there will be plenty, but there is little or no wood. A coal mine has been found four or five leagues from here. A shush, an assay, and practical miner is here on the part of the State, and says there is no chance for a doubt that this is a very rich district, extending some thirty or forty miles; it is just fifty leagues from Cuatro Ciénegas, and at present no water this side of Jora, a spring twelve leagues from Cuatro Ciénegas, but wells are being dug, and in a short time there will be plenty. There are about one hundred mines denominated and in operation, that are worked far enough to hold possession and prove the quality of ore. No gold—it is impossible—this is surely a limestone foundation.

The Phenix boys have played the return game of base ball with the McDowell Club, and the Herald of the 10th inst., has the following note which will be of interest to ourballists:

Our boys were badly beaten by the McDowell club in the game at Fort McDowell. On their return yesterday afternoon they were met a mile out of town by a committee, who tendered their sincere regret at their misfortune. The committee, who consisted of our boys, the large express wagon, which was appropriately draped, and the occupants were armed with Becher's going, tin cans, tom horns and other musical instruments of like nature. High McDonald led the way, carrying a bag of musical notes. Our "boys" were so flattered that they separated, coming into town from the four points of the compass and in as quiet a manner as possible. The whistle of the flour mill was blown and the flag in the center of the town was at half mast. For appropriate reasons we do not care to give the score.

The Teecoleto mining gold excitement, near Santa Fe, still continues. Men are said to be washing out a half ounce per day.

Railroad Talk.

An official of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Company had a talk with a Chicago Tribune reporter January 2, and here is part of it:

The main line of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe would strike the Rio Grande river at San Domingo by February 1. The contract for the construction of 175 miles further down the river towards Old Mexico has just been awarded, and work was also being pushed east from Guaymas, and it is expected that the line would be completed to the Gulf of California in about one year and a half.

The thirty-fifth parallel route, which his road is to build jointly with the St. Louis and San Francisco west from Albuquerque to San Diego, Cal., would also be commenced shortly, as soon as the surveyors and engineers now in the field get through their work. It is expected to complete this line in about two years.

A SAN FRANCISCO correspondent writing from Globe District under a recent date says that about two miles southwest from the Mack Morris Mine there has been found a good prospect for the way of a rich carbonate vein. This is the first ore of this character found in this vicinity, and the mine owners are hoping for a second Leadville to start up. This is a large, strong vein, and has a splendid formation holding it, and in the gulch, at a distance of three hundred feet, is the most favorable location for reduction works, as there is water here the year around. This location has been selected for the Nugget mill, which has just been shipped from San Francisco, and when that, together with the McMorris, gets to working, an satisfied that this portion of the Territory will have lots of friends.

THE Leadville Reveille says that more than five hundred men are wintering on the Eagle and its tributaries. These stalwart miners are far seeing and prudent men. By the time the snow disappears from the mountain sides next spring they will have large dumps of rich ore extracted, and their mines will be pretty well opened up and in a condition to be worked to a profit or offered for sale with a view of realizing something near their value.

THE Denver and Rio Grande Company has contracted already for 15,000 tons of steel rails, 400 miles of splices and spikes, fifty water tanks, fifty wind mills, 400 flat cars, thirty locomotives, ten Pullmans, and all construction tools and hardware necessary to complete the extensions to Albuquerque and Silverton.

THE United States Consul General in Mexico writes that the superiority of American manufactures is beginning to be generally recognized, and they are gradually but decidedly superseding European articles of similar character.

THE aggregate of assessments levied on the Comstock mines during the last year is given at $7,136,890. Those who have put their money there have one chance of escape and that is to invest in the rich mines of Pima county.

A SALT LAKE dispatch reports that the present activity in mining in Utah equals the booming days of the Emma mine, and that it is estimated that the fully $10,000,000 have been invested there since last spring by Eastern capitalists.

A KANSAS CITY man is hunting a journalist of that city with a pistol. The newspaper chap told him on Christmas, in a burst of confidence, that he couldn't put anything handsomer into his wife's stocking than was there already. —[Hawkeye.]

THE committee charged with investigating the affairs of Commissioner Hayt consists of A. C. Barstow, Chairman of the Board of Indian Commissioners, Simley and Strickner, Secretary of the Board.

A COMMITTEE of postal officials has been appointed to examine into the allegation that Wells, Fargo & Co.'s letter express conflicts with the postal laws.
